COLUMBUS, Dec. 8.—Gov. John W. Bricker asserted today that President Roosevelt was more interested in trying to discredit Republicans and get votes than in human welfare.

The governor expressed his views in a statement replying to a press conference declaration of President Roosevelt that Ohio had failed to carry out its relief obligations.

If the president and his valuable secretary were as interested in human welfare as they are in trying to discredit Republicans and getting votes they would pay to the aged of Ohio the $1,300,000 which is owed them and which was withheld in Washington after a most disgraceful quarrel with my predecessor," Bricker stated.

Refers to Davey Squabble

Bricker referred to the federal social security board's refusal to pay Ohio the federal government's share for old age pensions in October, 1938. The board charged at the time that former Gov. Martin L. Davey was using the pension system for political promotion, an assertion which Davey denied.

Governor Bricker declared that the relief situation in Ohio has already been solved and the lurid catch phrases which are being used by political opponents are no longer applicable in Ohio than in any other state in the United States."

Meanwhile, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson said he would oppose any attempt by the City of Cleveland to sell $1,200,000 tax deficiency bonds to the Ohio Teachers' retirement fund. The state board of tax appeals this week authorized issuance of the bonds to

Mahoning Election Board Asks Recommendation From State

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 8.—The Mahoning county board of elections is awaiting recommendations from Secretary of State Earl Griffith regarding alleged irregularities in precinct B of Campbell's Third ward.

After hearing 16 witnesses, all of whom denied knowing anything about "short-penciling," or marking of ballots after they had been cast, but several of whom told of irregular procedures during the vote count, the board agreed to defer action until it heard from Griffith.

Attorney Leonard J. Stern, representing Griffith at the board's hearing, asked the board in Griffith's name to wait.

'Behind the News'

Cleveland Foreign Affairs Expert to Speak Here Tuesday Night

Spencer Irwin, associate editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, foreign affairs columnist and interpreter, will discuss "Current Events of the Moment" in a lecture at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the public library assembly room.

The talk, sponsored by the Travelers club, will be open to the public as was the writer's first address here last year.

Writer of the Plain Dealer editorials on foreign affairs and a weekly column, "Behind the Foreign News," Irwin has distinguished himself internationally in his journalistic work as interpreter of events in countries abroad.

He is a member of the Cleveland Foreign Affairs council of which Dr. Brooks Emery, a former Salem resident, is educational director.

Irwin has made the study of foreign affairs his hobby, as well as his vocation, and his acquaintance with present-day statesmen and diplomats of many nations enables him to give authoritative interpretation of their politics and participation in world events.

A capacity house enjoyed the first presentation of the Senior class play, "Keep Off the Grass," at the High school auditorium last night.

Final performance by the student cast will be given at 8:15 tonight.

A gay comedy about the adventures in finance, romance and society of a typical American family, the play is especially suitable for young players, who despite their youth, turn in outstanding performances.

The production, directed by Miss Viola Bodo, is presented by A. J. Freed, Saro Wonner, Edward Cavannaugh, Anne Skorupska, Elizabeth Hart, Ruth West, Virginia Nan James Schaeffer, Betty Bichsel, Peggy Stewart, Helen Knepper, Eugene McCready, Robert Neale and Frank Davis.

Three minor traffic accidents were reported to police Thursday and today.

Policemen were given the license number of a Leetonia motorist's machine which struck a car driven by Mrs. Norman Kelly of 2124 E. State st. on State st. yesterday morning.

A machine owned by Clyde Miller of R. D. 3, Salem, parked at 608 Attra st., was damaged slightly when struck by an automobile driven by John Sartick of 212 Ohio ave. last night, police said.

A minor collision at the corner of E. State st. and Penn ave at 7:45 a. m. today involved cars operated by George Windle, R. D. 2, Salem, and Walter Turner, 1262 E. Pershing st.

On vacation

Miss Mary Shriver is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties as secretary to H. A. Moore, county WPA certifying agent in the Lisbon courthouse.

The Salem chapter of the Red Cross appealed to the public today to assist in its program to make Christmas day happier for needy Salem families.

Mrs. Myra Woodruff, executive secretary of the Salem chapter, announced that the Red Cross is prepared to give out the names of needy families to persons who wish to give Christmas baskets.

The Red Cross will be glad to deliver the gift baskets to the families if the donors do not care to do so themselves.

Persons who give Christmas baskets to families whose names were not provided them by the Red Cross are asked to notify the chapter so there will be no duplication of gifts.

Mrs. Woodruff said the Red Cross would like each Christmas basket to contain toys for children. If the persons who give baskets have no toys available, they are asked to come to the chapter office in the Memorial building and gifts for the children will be furnished them.

Donations of used or discarded toys in a good state of repair are now being received. Persons are asked to bring the toys to the chapter office but, if this is not possible, they may phone the Red Cross and someone will call for them.

Mrs. Woodruff said the Red Cross is asking that all used toys donated be in good condition because the chapter does not have time to repair them this year.

U. S. DECLARES SHIP BLOCKADE BREACH OF LAW

Formal Note On Barrier Against Nazis Sent to Great Britain

ACTION FOLLOWS HALT ON EXPORTS

State Department Reserves Rights to Collect on Damages

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The United States, formally reserving all its rights to recover on damages which it may suffer as a result of Britain's blockade of German exports, today called the blockade a breach of the principles of international law.

In a formal note to Great Britain made public by the state department the American government said it was "under the necessity of requesting that measures adopted by the British government shall not cause interference with the legitimate trade of its nationals and of reserving meanwhile all its rights and the rights of its nationals whenever, and to the extent that, they may be infringed."

Britain put into effect Monday a virtual blockade against German exports coming out through neutral countries and destined for overseas consumers.

The state department told Britain, "quite apart from the principles of international law thus involved, the maintenance of the integrity of which can not be too strongly emphasized at this time when a tendency toward disrespect for law in international relations is threatening the security of peace loving nations, there are practical reasons which move my government to take notice of the order in council here in question."

These practical reasons were listed as:

1—In many cases orders or goods of German origin have been placed by Americans for which they already have made payment in whole or in part or have otherwise obligated themselves.

2—In other cases goods purchased from Germany or which might be purchased, can not readily, if at all, be duplicated in other markets, and are needed by American purchasers for carrying on their legitimate trade, industry and professions. The state department was here referring to such items as fine precision instruments.

Britain's attention was called to the combat area order, under the neutrality act, which prohibits American ships from engaging in commerce on the west coast of Europe between Bergen, Norway, and the northern part of Spain, and the Eve.

Out of 2,445 men who have shot at the targets since last April, young Birkhimer is one of only 24 who have qualified as charter members of the 'One-Forty' or Better club.

And among the 24, he is fourth in the very top.

In attempting to qualify for his exclusive group of supermarks, the navy recruits shoot 30 shots, at 200 yards, from three positions—rapid fire, prone and sitting. Each bullseye is worth five points in the navy system of figuring the final score.

Birkhimer registered 144 points out six short of a perfect score to qualify for the 1939 gunnery honor roll, called by the naval students the "Hall of Fame".

The National league voted in favor of these measures to override the commissioner, but the junior circuit took Landis' side and yesterday rejected every proposal sent up by the smaller leagues.

Besides turning down the minor league offerings, today's joint meeting voted to prevent a club in one big league from moving into a city in the other league without the unanimous consent of both leagues.

Heretofore, the St. Louis Cardinals, for instance, could have moved to Detroit despite the wishes of the Tigers' owner if a bare majority of the American league clubs agreed to the switch.

This was another instance in which Commissioner Landis aligned himself with the American league, voting in favor of the provision after the National league voted against it.

The reception will be held in the lower auditorium of the church and a program has been arranged for the evening, with lunch and a social hour following the entertainment. All members of the church are urged to be present.

Red Cross Asks Assistance In Christmas Gift Giving

Will Provide Names of Needy Families As Means of Avoiding Duplication of Gifts

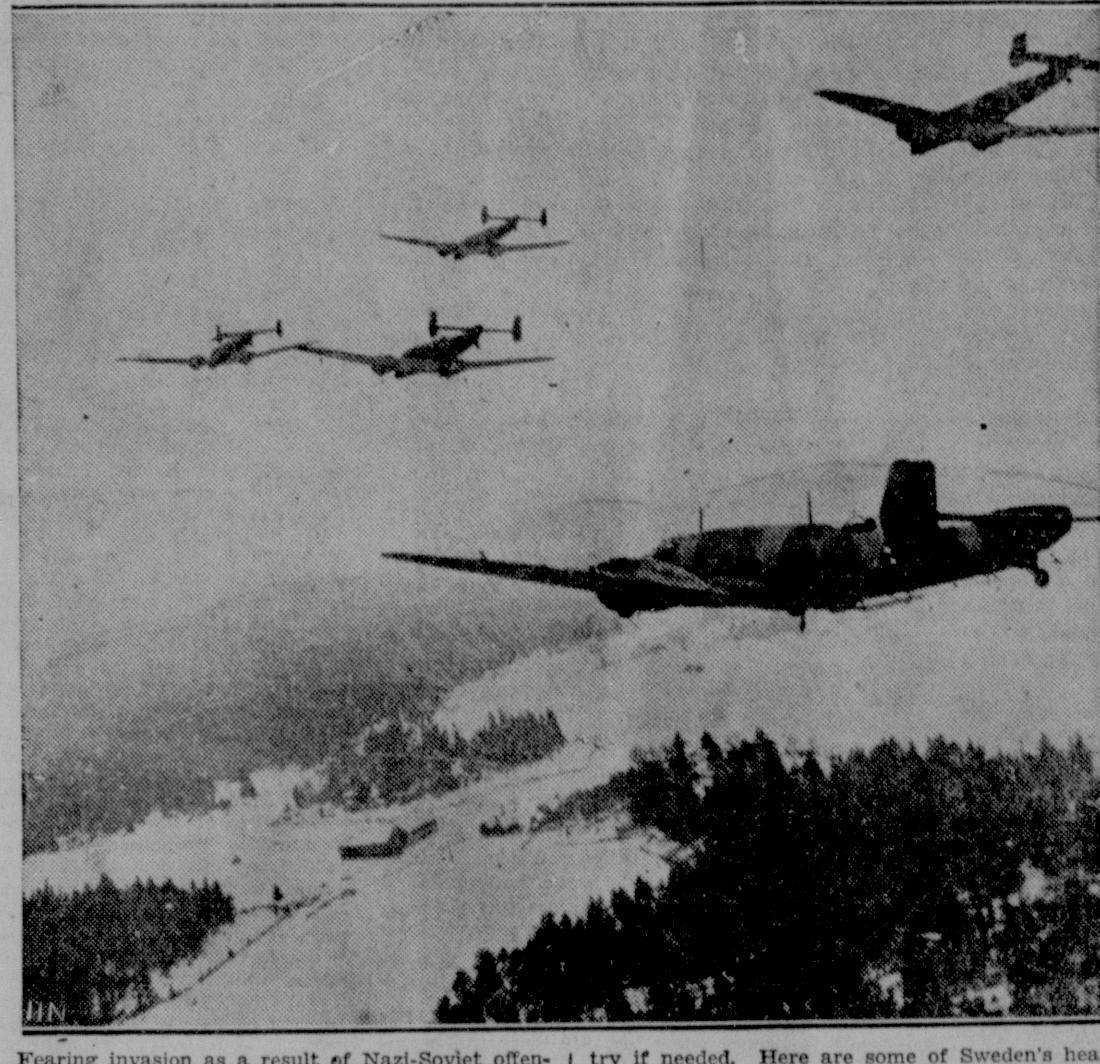

The Salem chapter of the Red Cross appealed to the public today to assist in its program to make Christmas day happier for needy Salem families.

The Red Cross will be glad to deliver the gift baskets to the families if the donors do not care to do so themselves. Persons who give Christmas baskets to families whose names were not provided them by the Red Cross are asked to notify the chapter so there will be no duplication of gifts.

NEUTRAL SHIPS MUST BE OUT BY NOON SATURDAY

Moscow Notifies Finns That Blockade Is Effective Today

EFFECTIVENESS IS QUESTIONED

Some Doubt Whether Soviet Ships Can Navigate Min'd Waters

(By Associated Press) COPENHAGEN, Dec. 8.—Neutral ships in the Baltic hastily began leaving waters adjacent to Finland today as a result of Soviet Russia's announcement of a blockade of Finland.

They will have until noon tomorrow to leave the blockaded zone. After that Russia will declare the waters "dangerous for shipping."

The new Russian weapon, supplementing attacks on Finnish ships by land, air and sea, was disclosed last night when the Danish ministry of commerce announced that it had been notified by Moscow of the blockade's effectiveness.

Both Finland and Sweden have moved approaches to the Gulf of Bothnia, the east shore of which is Finnish, and doubt was expressed here that any Soviet warships would be able to enter it.

In such an event, observers said, traffic could continue across the gulf between Sweden and Finland unless the Red air force could enforce the blockade in those waters with effective bombing.

Stockholm newspapers reported the declaration of the blockade without comment.

The consensus in diplomatic quarters was that the neutral Scandinavian states simply would take cognizance of the blockade, leaving it up to shippers to decide for themselves whether to run the risks involved in defying it.

CLEVELAND'S "CRISIS"

Outsiders like the mayor of New York City and the national administrator of WPA in Washington may find it hard to understand, but Gov. Bricker still has Ohio's confidence in Cleveland's relief crisis.

There are tangible reasons why the governor has the state's confidence. First, he is fully aware of the situation has given it thorough consideration and study, has refused to be rushed off his feet, has declined to pass the buck by calling a special session of the legislature, and last, but certainly not least, realizes that Ohio's welfare depends on finding a common sense solution.

Second reason is the widespread conviction among Ohioans that if the city of Cleveland is going to have a relief crisis every so often it's time to quit taking aspirin tablets and find out what's wrong with the state's largest municipality. Either it's in a class by itself and subject to peculiar afflictions, as it claims to be, or is failing to do what other municipalities that don't have recurrent relief crises have been doing.

In this connection it seems important that the state board of tax appeals has authorized issuance of $1,200,000 worth of bonds against delinquent taxes to meet Cleveland's relief needs for the remainder of 1939. This is a money raising device that had been available all the time and was pointed out by Gov. Bricker as the alternative to a magic cure supposedly at the fingertips of a special session of the legislature. Other cities and Cleveland, too, have used it often, but it took a crisis to make Cleveland think about using it again.

These are matters that remote control critics, more anxious to put Gov. Bricker on the spot than to contribute anything constructive to the relief problem in Ohio, are unable, or at least unwilling, to understand. Another point that misses them entirely is that Ohio has been doing serious thinking about increasing local responsibility for relief. The majority of its citizens feel the ultimate solution lies in that direction. They don't see the percentage in yelling for help every whipstitch to Columbus and Cleveland. Sooner or later they must pay the freight anyway, and the most economical way is to pay as much of it as possible from local resources. There's not likely to be so much excess cargo that way.

A local responsibility calls for belt-tightening and self-denial. Old American customs that have gone out of style in some communities reluctant to admit the free-wheeling spending days of the 1920's are gone forever. Ohio cities that have revived these customs find it hard to believe Cleveland couldn't profitably cut some spending corners too. Belt-tightening and self-denial won't solve the Ohio relief problem, but they make it a lot simpler.

Ohio intends to solve the whole problem in good time—not the way the mayor of New York City wants it solved or the way a bureaucrat in Washington wants it solved, but the way Ohio wants it solved. As Gov. Bricker has put it, when and if we need help from such gentlemen they'll be sent for officially.

STREAMLINED BREAKFASTS

It's true, within limits, that human beings can eat just so much—but the limits, like the stomach, are surprisingly elastic.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, for instance, thinks the farm problem would take care of itself if everybody could afford to eat what he wanted—on the assumption that consumption would increase. But there's a home-made solution for the farm problem that doesn't entail dealing with the problem of eliminating poverty.

The real secret is breakfast. Americans aren't eating enough at the beginning of the day. This nation wasn't built on the fortitude that comes from a squirt of citrus fruit juice, a bowl of dry cereal, a cup of coffee and a piece of toast. Our forefathers weren't often wealthy, but that didn't keep them from noble performances at the breakfast table.

There used to be pancakes, sausage, hominy, plenty of cooked cereal, platters of eggs, plates of bread and doughnuts and slabs of pie for those who faced a particularly hard day. The argument runs that men and women don't need to eat so much any more, but who says so? Would it do them any harm?

None whatever, except to make them correspondingly hungrier for the other two meals, a phenomenon of appetite that has something to do with stretching the stomach first thing in the morning. They would be correspondingly heavier, but a little extra girth would be a small price to pay for a solution of the farm problem.

HAMMERING AND SICKLING

On the face of what's being reported from Finland, the Russians seem to be having trouble with their hammering and sickling. Finns seem to be more than holding their own against the invaders.

From the realistic point of view, which is the only one worth bothering with when war's in progress, this is of vital importance.

If Russia fumbles the military project it has cut out for itself in Finland, failing to win military prestige comparable to that won by Germany in its lightning conquest of Poland, its ascendancy as a major power will be halted abruptly. Its reputation as a weak sister on the battlefield will rise up to call its bluff as a military juggernaut.

Germany will be undisputed No. 1 power in the Russo-German alliance. The shadow of Stalinism over the Balkans, which has been giving Italy—and Germany too—the cold shivers, will be shortened. The threat of Russian aggression elsewhere in Europe, particularly at the expense of Norway, Sweden and Denmark, will be robbed of its punch.

Time already has robbed Russia of its punch as far as the threat of Communism is concerned. Other governments no longer raise goose pimples over the possibility of world revolution, but if Russia proved capable of military conquest it might gain victims where once it threatened only to make converts.

Finland will prove whether or not this possibility is capable of realization.

Tuberculosis On The Run,
Dr. Clendening Reports

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE ARE IN the season when the Christmas seals of the National Tuberculosis Association are distributed, and this column heartily recommends that everyone, who can possibly afford it, buy a page of them and use them. The money so accumulated by this association is well spent, and the advertising which you give to the movement by placing a seal on the back of your Christmas mail will spread interest in the great campaign.

We have tuberculosis on the run. That is the reason why this campaign must be encouraged. There has been a consistent decline in the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States from nearly 200 failure to secure parental consent for the investigation of more than 50 to 60 per cent of the children. The advantages of the findings of tuberculosis in school children are twofold—to the affected child and to the community. Yet these advantages are fully recognized only when the investigation includes both children and family contacts.

Questions and Answers

M. E. A.: Is it definitely known what causes people to grit their teeth in their sleep? I have a friend who has done this annoying thing since childhood. Recently I read that gritting of teeth is in some cases one form of epilepsy which replaces the more usual falling-down procedure of the epileptic.

Answer—Gritting teeth is usually due to a habit and probably due to malocclusion or particular prominence of one tooth. It cannot be said that gritting the teeth is a nocturnal form of epilepsy.

C. C.: My mother, who is 75 years of age, is suffering from gallstones. She does not want an operation. I have been told that sodium phosphate will ease her pain and help her a little. Kindly let me know.

Answer—I think your mother is very wise not to want an operation at the age of 75. It is very likely that with the use of sodium phosphate she will be able to live a long time in comfort. It should be taken in solution in the morning, before breakfast.

CLEVELAND'S "CRISIS"

Outsiders like the mayor of New York City and the national administrator of WPA in Washington may find it hard to understand, but Gov. Bricker still has Ohio's confidence in Cleveland's relief crisis.

There are tangible reasons why the governor has the state's confidence. First, he is fully aware of the situation, has given it thorough consideration and today has refused to be rushed off his feet, has declined to pass the buck by calling a special session of the legislature, and last, but certainly not least, realizes that Ohio's welfare depends on finding a common sense solution.

Second reason is the widespread conviction among Ohioans that if the city of Cleveland is going to have a relief crisis every so often it's time to quit taking aspirin tablets and find out what's wrong with the state's largest municipality. Either it's in a class by itself and subject to peculiar afflictions, as it claims to be, or is failing to do what other municipalities that don't have recurrent relief crises have been doing.

In this connection it seems important that the state board of tax appeals has authorized issuance of $1,200,000 worth of bonds against delinquent taxes to meet Cleveland's relief needs for the remainder of 1939. This is a money raising device that had been available all the time and was pointed out by Gov. Bricker as the alternative to a magic cure supposedly at the fingertips of a special session of the legislature. Other cities and Cleveland, too, have used it often, but it took a crisis to make Cleveland think about using it again.

These are matters that remote control critics, more anxious to put Gov. Bricker on the spot than to contribute anything constructive to the relief problem in Ohio, are unable, or at least unwilling, to understand. Another point that misses them entirely is that Ohio has been doing serious thinking about increasing local responsibility for relief. The majority of its citizens feel the ultimate solution lies in that direction. They don't see the percentage in yelling for help every whipstitch to Columbus and Cleveland. Sooner or later they must pay the freight anyway, and the most economical way is to pay as much of it as possible from local resources. There's not likely to be so much excess cargo that way.

Local responsibility calls for belt-tightening and self-denial. Old American customs that have gone out of style in some communities reluctant to admit the free-wheeling spending days of the 1920's are gone forever. Ohio cities that have revived these customs find it hard to believe Cleveland couldn't profitably cut some spending corners too. Belt-tightening and self-denial won't solve the Ohio relief problem, but they make it a lot simpler.

Ohio intends to solve the whole problem in good time—not the way the mayor of New York City wants it solved or the way a bureaucrat in Washington wants it solved, but the way Ohio wants it solved. As Gov. Bricker has put it, when and if we need help from such gentlemen they'll be sent for officially.

It's true, within limits, that human beings can eat just so much—but the limits, like the stomach, are surprisingly elastic.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, for instance, thinks the farm problem would take care of itself if everybody could afford to eat what he wanted—on the assumption that consumption would increase. But there's a home-made solution for the farm problem that doesn't entail dealing with the problem of eliminating poverty.

The real secret is breakfast. Americans aren't eating enough at the beginning of the day. This nation wasn't built on the fortitude that comes from a squirt of citrus fruit juice, a bowl of dry cereal, a cup of coffee and a piece of toast. Our forefathers weren't often wealthy, but that didn't keep them from noble performances at the breakfast table.

There used to be pancakes, sausage, hominy, plenty of cooked cereal, platters of eggs, plates of bread and doughnuts and slabs of pie for those who faced a particularly hard day. The argument runs that men and women don't need to eat so much any more, but who says so? Would it do them any harm?

None whatever, except to make them correspondingly hungrier for the other two meals. A phenomenon of appetite that has something to do with stretching the stomach first thing in the morning. They would be correspondingly heavier, but a little extra girth would be a small price to pay for a solution of the farm problem.

Theater Attractions

Alice Faye and Warner Baxter are co-starred for the first time in "Barbarian," adventure story laid in war-torn China, which shows at the State tonight and Saturday. An American girl, fleeing a murderer's charge, and an adventurous newspaperman looking for trouble, run into danger and excitement when their train is stopped by bandits attack on a city ahead.

The girl has witnessed a political assassination and fears she will be silenced. The newspaperman wants her story and follows her. They reach the American consulate in the besieged city where the consul is played by Charles Winniger, is trying to protect property and lives at the risk of his own.

The old man's heroism prompts the reporter to write a story of the incident. The girl and the writer risk their lives to send it and return to the consulate. Their actions bring aid to the city and recognition to the consul.

Arthur Treacher, Keye Luke and Willis Fung are seen in the supporting cast.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is a new Gene Autry western "Ravin Tumbleweeds." Smiley Burnette, Mary Carlisle and Douglas Dumbrille are seen in the story.

Impatient Children Storm Santa Claus' Warehouse of Toys

(By Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8—Thirty boys and girls, impatient for Christmas, stormed Santa Claus' storehouse and ran away with 400 toys.

Later seven repentant raiders helped the Santa Claus Club, Inc., recover most of the toys, intended for poor children. But scores of playthings, including 50 dolls to be given to orphan girls were missing or broken.

The children, 6 to 16 years old, met outside an abandoned church where the toys were stored.

"They've moved away. They don't want those toys in the basement," said the youngsters. "They'd have taken them if they did."

That was the signal for the raid. Boxes packed full of dolls, teddy bears, fire engines, model airplanes and doll furniture were ripped open. Many toys were trampled and torn in the excitement.

Fred J. Hoelderle, who had helped repair the playthings, heard of the raid and hurried over. Boys and girls, their arms full of toys, scurried in all directions.

Hoelderle recognized some of the boys and notified police. The youngsters helped recover the toys.

"We didn't think those kids would steal from us," lamented William P. Dwyer, manager of the club. "Why, we've given most of them lessons in toy making."

He asked police not to arrest any of the children.

RED BLUFF, Calif.—Local state highway patrol officers issued their "most unusual" ticket for violation of traffic regulations in charging Elmer E. Fields, 58, carpenter, with driving while nude.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals for furnishing of all materials and the performance of all work required to construct driveways, additions to and alterations of buildings, for the Salem High School, will be received by the Board of Education, Salem City School District, Salem, at the office of the Clerk of the Said Board of Education, until 12:00 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Monday, December 11, 1939, and at that place will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The proposed work consists of general construction, also all mechanical trades, etc., in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by King & Canfield Architects, for the said Board of Education.

Copies of plans, specifications and contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Clerk of the Board, where they are available for inspection by prospective bidders and for estimating bids. Bidders may submit their bids with conditions by making request at the office of the Architects and making a deposit of $100 which will be returned if plans and specifications are rejected within 30 days after receipt of bids. A deduction approximately equal to the cost of reproduction will be made from refunds to non-bidders providing plans and specifications are returned within 30 days after issuance.

Plans must contain the name of every person interested therein and shall be accompanied by a certificate of no less than 1/3 of the total bid, with surety satisfactory to the Board of Education or by certified check on a solvent bank. If the amount is less than the bid, the bid will be drawn in favor of the Board of Education of Salem City School District, Salem.

Proposed bonds shall be accepted in the amount of one-half of the official or legal fee signing the bond together with a recent financial statement of the surety company.

The proposed bond or certified check submitted with a bid will be held as a guarantee that if the proposal is accepted, a contract will be entered into.

The deposit of all except the three lowest bidders will be returned within three days after the opening of bids. The bid deposit of the three lowest bidders will be retained within 48 hours after the execution of the contract and required bonds have been finally approved by the owner.

Execution of the bidder is called to the attention of contractors by the Board of Education. Regulations which are included in and made a part of the proposed contract documents and to the special requirements, for procurement of labor, work, rates, and terms of employment. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days after receipt of bid. Particular attention is called to the statutory requirement of the State of Ohio relative to licensing of corporations organized under the laws of any other State.

Contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder in accordance with laws of the State of Ohio. The right is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any or all bids or to waive infirmities. By order of the Board of Education, Salem City School District.

Atom Smasher Built; But Why Smash It? Expert Tells Why

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—It's going to be a hard winter for atoms at Ohio State university. "Big Bertha," the school's new atom smasher, is nearing completion.

Built by WPA, university engineers and graduate students, the 96-ton colossus is one of three score in the world. It cost $46,000.

Why smash an atom? Dr. M. L. Pool of the department of physics offers this comparatively simple answer:

By smashing atoms into tiny bits of matter—a process called transmutation—science is discovering new metals and materials.

Before the invention of the cyclotron—the technical name for "Big Bertha"—there were 281 stable nuclei in 92 known elements. Atom smashing has produced 232 new artificial radio-active nuclei.

Determines the Metal

(The number of protons and neutrons in the nucleus of an atom determines whether a substance is carbon, gold, or some other metal.)

One product of the atom smasher is radio-active sodium, a substitute for radium in medical treatments.

How is atom-smashing done?

Placed between two barrel-like electro-magnets is a bass-drum type of container into which atoms are placed. The atoms are bombarded by a stream of ions stepped up to a potential of approximately 16,000,000 volts with the aid of a 40,000-watt shortwave radio transmitter.

The nucleus of the atom is disrupted and the number of protons or neutrons changed when the ions strike.

The terrific heat generated by the circulating ions requires the cyclotron to be wrapped in eight miles of hollow copper tubing through which water is forced to keep the machine cool and to prevent the escape of neutrons.

Years Completion

Ohio State's atom-smasher is expected to be in operation by January or February. Working with Dr. Pool are Dr. Alpheus Smith, head of the university physics department, and colleagues Dr. K. R. More and Dr. E. Gaertner.

The cyclotron's designer, Dr. Ernest Orlando Lawrence, 38-year-old professor at the University of California recently was awarded the Nobel prize in physics.

So by January, atoms will be wandering around Ohio State saying to each other:

"Had your transmutation today?"

PORLTAND, Ore.—U. S. Market Service statistics show that Oregon probably will become eventually the "ocean" state of the union. Preliminary figures for this year show a record-breaking yield of 84,800 sacks.

Alice Faye and Warner Baxter co-starred for the first time in "Barbecue," adventure story laid in war-torn China, which shows at the State tonight and Saturday.

An American girl, fleeing a murderer, and an adventurous newspaperman looking for trouble, run into danger and excitement when their train is stopped by bandits' attack on a city ahead.

The girl has witnessed a political assassination and fears she will be silenced. The newspaperman wants her story and follows her. They reach the American consulate in the besieged city where the consul is played by Charles Winniger, is trying to protect property and lives at the risk of his own.

The old man's heroism prompts the reporter to write a story of the incident. The girl and the writer risk their lives to send it and return to the consulate. Their actions bring aid to the city and recognition to the consul.

Arthur Treacher, Keye Luke and Willie Fung are seen in the supporting cast.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is a new Gene Autry western "Rovin' Tumbleweeds." Smiley Burnette, Mary Carlisle and Douglas Dumbrille are seen in the story.

Impatient Children
Storm Santa Claus'
Warehouse of Toys

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8.—Thirty boys and girls, impatient for Christmas, stormed Santa Claus' storehouse and ran away with 400 toys. Later seven repentant raiders helped the Santa Claus Club, Inc., recover most of the toys, intended for poor children. But scores of playthings, including 50 dolls to be given to orphan girls were missing or broken.

The children, 6 to 16 years old, met outside an abandoned church where the toys were stored.

"They've moved away. They don't want those toys in the basement," said the youngsters. "They'd have taken them if they did."

That was the signal for the raid. Boxes packed full of dolls, teddy bears, fire engines, model airplanes and doll furniture were ripped open. Many toys were trampled and torn in the excitement.

Fred J. Hoelderle, who had helped repair the playthings, heard of the raid and hurried over. Boys and girls, their arms full of toys, scurried in all directions.

Hoelderle recognized some of the boys and notified police. The youngsters helped recover the toys.

"We didn't think those kids would steal from us," lamented William P. Dwyer, manager of the club. "Why, we've given most of them lessons in toy making."

He asked police not to arrest any of the children.

RED BLUFF, Calif.—Local state highway patrol officers issued their "most unusual" ticket for violation of traffic regulations in charging Elmer E. Fields, 58, carpenter, with driving while nude.

Beloit Couple To Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Naylor, whose 50th wedding anniversary will be Tuesday, will observe the anniversary at their home near Beloit, holding open house during the day and evening. The couple will welcome friends, relatives and neighbors at any time Tuesday.

Miss Marietta Park and H. S. Naylor were united in marriage Dec. 12, 1889, by Rev. A. W. Newlin in Damascus. They spent most of their life at the Naylor family homestead where they are living now. They made their home in Salem for about a year. Mr. and Mrs. Naylor are members of the First Friends church of Beloit.

They have seven children and 15 grandchildren.

Mrs. John Burke Named Head of L. C. B. A.

Mrs. John Burke was named president of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent association at a business meeting in the K. of C. hall Thursday evening.

Other officers are: First vice president, Mrs. W. J. O'Neill; second vice president, Miss Margaret Entriken; recorder, Miss Katherine Hagan; assistant, Miss Winifred Strader; financial secretary, Miss Rita Munsell; marshall, Mrs. Mary Halfdeman; guard, Miss Mae Hagan.

Children of the members will be entertained at a Christmas party Dec. 21 in the K. of C. hall. A gift exchange will be a feature of the fete, plans for which were completed during the business meeting.

Members played cards later in the evening. Prize winners were: Bridge, Mrs. A. L. Henry, "500"; Mrs. Fred Munsell; euchre, Mrs. Albert Lodge; guest, Miss Jean Munsell.

Lunch was served by the committee which included Mrs. George Lippert, Mrs. Ed. Slinger, Mrs. Joseph Bryan, Miss Hannah Hagan, Miss Mary Elizabeth O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting on Jan. 4 in the K. of C. hall.

New Year's Eve Dance Planned by Elks

Arrangements for the annual New Year's eve dance at the Elks home, Dec. 31, were announced today by C. L. Taylor, exalted ruler of Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. E.

The dance will be open to Elks and invited guests. Invitations are now being printed and will be mailed shortly.

Don Harvey's orchestra has been booked to provide music for the dancing. Novelties will be given guests.

The committee in charge of the dance is composed of Lloyd Robusch, C. A. Irey, W. J. Pfaff, Dale Rafferty and Floyd Reynard.

Graduate Nurses Exchange Gifts

Graduate Nurses exchanged gifts at a Christmas party last evening at the home of Miss Leila Faloon in Hanoverton.

Motion pictures and other informal entertainment, followed by a lunch, were enjoyed by 22 members of the association.

During a short business meeting plans were made for giving two Christmas baskets to needy families during the holidays.

The Jan. 4 meeting will be held at the home of Miss Sara Simpson in Washingtonville.

Don Quinn, Joseph Bogar, Peter Faini, James Steffel and Rev. Fr. Herbert Cooke returned yesterday from a week's hunting trip near Gaines, Pa.

Mrs. Sell Chief of Pythian Sisters

Elected new officers at a meeting in the K. of C. hall last night. Friendship temple No. 100, Pythian Sisters named Mrs. Leroy Sell as excellent chief for the 1939-40 season.

Other officers are as follows: Senior, Mrs. Albert Lesch; junior, Mrs. Louis Laurain; manager, Mrs. Donald Roessler; mistress of records and correspondence, Mrs. Roland Knepper; mistress of finance, Mrs. Harvey Stiffler; protector, Mrs. Blaine McClaskey; guard, Mrs. C. P. Hepler; past chief, Mrs. Charles Ward.

Trustee, Mrs. Marie Apple; installing officer, Mrs. Laura Voller; grand representative, Mrs. John Kerr; alternate, Mrs. Lillian Lantz; degree staff captain, Mrs. Blanche Scullion; mistress of work, Mrs. Will Probert; press correspondent, Mrs. Sell.

Officers will be installed Jan. 4.

A Christmas party will be held after the next meeting Dec. 21 in the lodge hall. Names of "Secret sisters" will be revealed and a "Goodie" lunch will be served.

Mrs. Harry Feicht Is Hostess

Dorcas society members of Trinity Lutheran church were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Feicht on East Eighth st.

Mrs. Samuel Atkinson was as-sociate hostess.

Reports of committees and chairmen were heard during the business meeting, which was followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. Thomas Egan will be hostess at her home on South Ellsworth ave., Jan. 4. Mrs. Elizabeth Heim will be associate hostess.

Telephone Workers Have Party

Employees of the traffic department of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., gave a dinner party last evening observing the opening of the new quarters on North Lundy ave.

The dinner honored a group of company employees who have been here for several months assisting in training local workers in operation of the dial system.

Places were arranged for 25 at tables decorated attractively with arrangements of roses and daisies. Out-of-town guests were from Akron and Canton.

MIDDLETON

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Yocum were weekend guests of their daughter, Mrs. Oscar Burrier, and family of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. David Firestone and family were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vonnegut.

Arthur Cope is improving nicely from injuries received in an automobile accident. He is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Linda Cope.

Rev. Wibur Meiser and sister, Mary Ellen Meiser of Sherrodsville, spent Saturday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Meiser.

Miss Sara Cooper plans to leave the latter part of the week for Boston, Mass., where she will enter a nurses training school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hawkins were dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ulrich, Sunday evening.

Clayton Stanley, manager of the Home store for several years, expects to move his family to Fairhope, Ala., in the near future.

Miss Anita Sircy of the Fairmount Children's Home hospital, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sircy, and visited Miss Leona Pike of Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Firestone and family of Salem visited Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Firestone, Sunday afternoon.

Jury Is Discharged In Liverpool Case

LISBON, Dec. 8.—A jury in common pleas court late Thursday afternoon reported a disagreement in the trial of Carl Porter, 28, of East Liverpool, charged with a criminal attack on a 19-year-old girl of that city, and was discharged after two hours and 55 minutes of deliberations.

The jury, composed of eight men and four women, began deliberations at 1:05 after having heard closing arguments by both the state and defense counsel, and the court's charge.

After having been closeted two hours and 45 minutes the body returned to the court room for further instructions. Although a deadlock was apparent they returned to the jury room, but reported ten minutes later they were unable to agree on any of the four possible verdicts submitted by the court.

The jury was then discharged by Judge W. F. Lanes. The case will again be set for trial at some future date.

Holiday Postponed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Santa Claus won't come for St. Olguin after all.

Friends gave a benefit dance to pay Olguin's $200 fine. The dance flopped—not drawing enough patrons to pay the orchestra.

Olguin's prison term is almost finished but since he can't pay the fine, he must serve an extra month.

Mrs. Thomas Egan will be hostess at her home on South Ellsworth ave., Jan. 4. Mrs. Elizabeth Heim will be associate hostess.

Officers will be installed Jan. 4.

A Christmas party will be held after the next meeting Dec. 21 in the lodge hall. Names of "Secret sisters" will be revealed and a "Goodie" lunch will be served.

The jury was then discharged by Judge W. F. Lanes. The case will again be set for trial at some future date.

Sentenced Anyway

WILSON, N. C.—A Negro defendant confessed to Judge G. V. Cowper that he had stolen $35, but said someone stole it from him during the night.

"I didn't get any of it," the defendant complained.

But he did get something—a 12-month sentence.

EXAMINE 30 AT LISBON CLINIC

Health Workers Report Six New Cases; Other Ailments Revealed In Examinations

LISBON, Dec. 8.—Thirty persons were examined at a tuberculosis clinic Thursday in the county health offices, 24 being from the county health district, five from Selma and one from East Palestine.

The clinic resulted in the discovery of four advanced and two minimal cases of tuberculosis, with the latter two and one of the former being recommended for immediate sanitorium treatment. The examinations also revealed two cases of silicosis, one of bronchiectasis, and one of enlargement of the heart. Seven persons were instructed to return for further observation.

This was the seventh of eight tuberculosis clinics in the county this year, all of which are made possible through the purchase of the little Christmas health seals, the sale of which is sponsored during the month of Dec. each year by the County Health league. Anyone who has been missed in the Christmas seal sale campaign and who wishes to contribute to this very worthy cause may do so by contacting the chairman of the Christmas seal sale in their own communities, as follows: B. L. Jury Is Discharged In Liverpool Case

LISBON, Dec. 8.—A jury in common pleas court late Thursday afternoon reported a disagreement in the trial of Carl Porter, 28, of East Liverpool, charged with a criminal attack on a 19-year-old girl of that city, and was discharged after two hours and 55 minutes of deliberations.

The jury, composed of eight men and four women, began deliberations at 1:05 after having heard closing arguments by both the state and defense counsel, and the court's charge.

After having been closeted two hours and 45 minutes the body returned to the court room for further instructions. Although a deadlock was apparent they returned to the jury room, but reported ten minutes later they were unable to agree on any of the four possible verdicts submitted by the court.

The jury was then discharged by Judge W. F. Lones. The case will again be set for trial at some future date.

Holiday Postponed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Santa Claus won't come for St. Olguin after all.

Friends gave a benefit dance to pay Olguin's $200 fine. The dance flopped—not drawing enough patrons to pay the orchestra.

Olguin's prison term is almost finished but since he can't pay the fine, he must serve an extra month.

"I didn't get any of it," the defendant complained.

But he did get something—a 12-month sentence.

Sentenced Anyway

WILSON, N. C.—A Negro defendant confessed to Judge G. V. Cowper that he had stolen $35, but said someone stole it from him during the night.

"I didn't get any of it," the defendant complained.

But he did get something—a 12-month sentence.

Taft In Ravenna

RAVENNA, Dec. 8.—Senator Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, hailed as Ohio's Republican presidential hope in 1940, will appear at two Portage county meetings Saturday under sponsorship of the Portage County Rilon club, young men's Republican organization.

Places were arranged for 25 at tables decorated attractively with arrangements of roses and daisies.

Out-of-town guests were from Akron and Canton.

East Palestine Man Named In Two Suits

LISBON, Dec. 8.—R. G. Mc-Cabe of East Palestine was named defendant in two actions
filed in court Thursday, in which damages are asked in the sum of $6,000.

One action was filed by Ethel Davidow demanding $5,000 for injuries received while she was a passenger in a car owned and driven by Nathan Davidow, when it was allegedly struck by a truck owned by the defendant and driven by Eugene J. Gates.

The accident occurred on Route
14 in Unity township on the afternoon of Nov. 21, last, when the truck skidded and slid into the path of the plaintiff's car. It is said to have struck the rear of the car, causing it to skid, and go over an embankment 100 feet from the point of the accident. Mrs. Davidow claims injuries to her back and neck.

The other action was filed by Nathan Davidow, who demands
$1,000 for injuries to his arms, shoulders and neck, and damages to
his car in the accident.

TURKS WATCHING GERMAN ENVOY

Von Papen Arrives in Istanbul from Ankara. Activities Causing
Speculation

Franz von Papen, German ambassador who has been bitterly criticized by the Turkish press, arrived here unexpectedly today from Ankara, causing much speculation as to the significance of his movements.

It was reported that the ambassador would hold a closed meeting tomorrow of the German colony

Meanwhile the entire press of the country redoubled its attacks
on German propaganda in Turkey, in which von Papen, Adolf Hitler's diplomatic trouble-shooter, had had a directing hand.

There have been unofficial reports that Turkey would ask for von Papen's recall unless propaganda activities were halted. One paper demanded the German ambassador stop his propaganda activities or "pack up and get out."

The Germans are accused of attempting to provoke a conflict between Turkey and Russia.

Press attacks were touched off by the distribution of circulars bearing the watermark of the German embassy which purported to reprint an article from a Moscow periodical which attacked the Turkish press.

Meanwhile, President Ismet Inonu returned from an inspection of the Turkish-Russian border. Officials asserted that neither Turkey nor Russia was massing troops there.

Citizenship Class Formed In Leetonia

LEETONIA, Dec. 8.—On Tuesday evening, a WPA class in naturalization and United States government was formed in the firemen's

Get Navy Orders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Three Ohio firms today received contracts from the navy department. They included: The Standard Transformer Co., Warren, $23,630 for transformers; B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, $11,854 for rubber matting; and Ajax Manufacturing Co., Cleveland, $36,275 for forging machine.

This sent Los Angeles authorities on a search of the burial grounds described in the letter, but failed to locate a victim.

Kingsbury run, where the bodies of several victims were found, yielded the new suspect. Railroad detectives took him in custody and turned him over to police. Merlo said the suspect told him he came here from San Francisco six weeks ago, but denied any connection with the Los Angeles letters.

A Sickly Haul

MARION, Dec. 8.—On the Clifton Lower turkey ranch near Larue are approximately 1,000 turkeys ready for sale as Christmas dinners.

Of the entire flock, 993 were perfect specimens of health yesterday, while seven ailing birds were locked in the farm's hospital building.
Thieves visited the farm last night, passed up the 993 healthy birds and made off with the seven patients, the owner reported to Sheriff Fred
F. Miller today.

Believes England Has New Weapon

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A suggestion that Britain was employing a new secret weapon against German warplanes was contained in the Sketch today as warfare at sea continued to be the nation's major preoccupation.

The newspaper, in a front-page article, said the secret weapon was believed to have brought down a German plane which crashed at sea yesterday off the Norfolk coast.

"No official announcement can be expected for some time," it said, "but there are very good reasons for the claim being made."

Last night the hint was deliberately dropped in high official quarters that the Nazi raider had met its doom through a weapon of which Britain has never boasted."

Meanwhile the entire press of the country redoubled its attacks
on German propaganda in Turkey,

Dr. Charles A. Hainaut, 29, whose wife and son were killed, was the only occupant of the automobile to survive the crash. The dentist was unconscious when taken to a hospital but was given a chance to recover.

The six had just left the home of Howard Holmes a few hundred yards away when the speeding freight ploughed into their automobile. They had attended religious services at the home.

Dr. Hainaut was driving the car but his condition prevented Coroner James B. Jones from questioning him immediately. In charge of the eastbound train figuring in the crash were Engineer M. J.
Kinary and Conductor B. J. Wilson, both of Columbus, O.

East Palestine Man Named In Two Suits

LISBON, Dec. 8.—R. G. Mc-Conahay of East Palestine was named defendant in two actions
filed in court Thursday, in which damages are asked in the sum of $6,000.

One action was filed by Ethel Davidow demanding $5,000 for injuries received while she was a passenger in a car owned and driven
by Nathan Davidow, when it was allegedly struck by a truck owned by the defendant and driven by Eugene J. Oates.

The accident occurred on Route
14 in Unity township on the afternoon of Nov. 21, last, when the truck skidded and slid into the path of the plaintiff's car. It is said to have struck the rear of the car,
causing it to skid, and go over an embankment 100 feet from the point of the accident. Mrs. Davidow claims injuries to her back and
neck.

The other action was filed by
Nathan Davidow, who demands
$1,000 for injuries to his arms,
shoulders and neck, and damages to
his car in the accident.

TURKS WATCHING GERMAN ENVOY

Von Papen Arrives in Istanbul from Ankara, Activities Causing
Speculation

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Dec. 8.—Franz von Papen, German ambassador who has been bitterly criticized by the Turkish press, arrived here unexpectedly today from Ankara, causing much speculation as to the significance of his movements.

It was reported that the ambassador would hold a closed meeting tomorrow of the German colony here.

Meanwhile the entire press of the country redoubled its attacks on German propaganda in Turkey, in which von Papen, Adolf Hitler's diplomatic trouble-shooter, has had a directing hand.

There have been unofficial reports that Turkey would ask for von Papen's recall unless propaganda activities were halted. One paper demanded the German ambassador stop his propaganda activities or "pack up and get out."

The Germans are accused of attempting to provoke a conflict between Turkey and Russia.

Press attacks were touched off by the distribution of circulars bearing the watermark of the German embassy which purported to reprint an article from a Moscow periodical which attacked the Turkish press.

Meanwhile, President Ismet Inonu returned from an inspection of the Turkish-Russian border. Officials asserted that neither Turkey nor Russia was massing troops there.

Citizenship Class Formed In Leetonia

LEETONIA, Dec. 8.—On Tuesday evening, a WPA class in naturalization and United States government was formed in the firemen's room in the city building.

The class is for those desiring to apply for citizenship and seeking information. The class will be held each Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Simon Koontz entertained 32 friends and neighbors at her home Monday evening for the pleasure of her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Koontz, whose marriage was recently announced. The honor guests received a shower of miscellaneous gifts. Mrs. Koontz served lunch.

The Commercial club and its sponsor, Miss Estella Graham, held a party and dance Thursday evening at the high school building.

Get Navy Orders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Three Ohio firms today received contracts from the navy department. They included: The Standard Transformer Co., Warren, $23,630 for transformers; B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, $11,854 for rubber matting; and Ajax Manufacturing Co., Cleveland, $36,275 for forging machine.

The accident occurred on Route 14 in Unity township on the afternoon of Nov. 21, last, when the truck skidded and slid into the path of the plaintiff's car. It is said to have struck the rear of the car, causing it to skid, and go over an embankment 100 feet from the point of the accident. Mrs. Davidow claims injuries to her back and neck.

The other action was filed by Ethel Davidow, who demands $1,000 for injuries to his arms, shoulders and neck, and damages to his car in the accident.

A Sickly Haul

MARION, Dec. 8.—On the Clifton Lower turkey ranch near Larue are approximately 1,000 turkeys ready for sale as Christmas dinners.

Of the entire flock, 993 were perfect specimens of health yesterday, while seven ailing birds were locked in the farm's hospital building. Thieves visited the farm last night, passed up the 993 healthy birds and made off with the seven patients, the owner reported to Sheriff Fred F. Miller today.

Believes England Has New Weapon

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A suggestion that Britain was employing a new secret weapon against German warplanes was contained in the Sketch today as warfare at sea continued to be the nation's major preoccupation.

The newspaper, in a front-page article, said the secret weapon was believed to have brought down a German plane which crashed at sea yesterday off the Norfolk coast.

"No official announcement can be expected for some time," it said, "but there are very good reasons for the claim being made."

Last night the hint was deliberately dropped in high official quarters that the Nazi raider had met its doom through a weapon of which Britain has never boasted."

HUNT SUSPECTS IN N. Y. SLAYING

Police and F. B. I. Investigate
Bludgeoning of German Consular Attaché

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. — Two suspects were hunted by New York police today in the fatal bludgeoning of Dr. Walter Richard Engelberg, while federal agents pursued a separate inquiry into reports the slain German consular attaché was a Nazi spy.

Principal clues in the strange crime which police attribute to mad vengeance but which was also being explored for possible international political angles were ten large bloody fingerprints, a pair of size 11 slippers and a large dressing gown.

Police disclosed they were searching for a man of huge bulk, about 6 feet, 4 inches tall, who, they believed, had slept in an adjoining room the night of the slaying.

They also sought a second man described only as a "23-year-old Swede."

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, personally took command of the federal inquiry after Deputy Medical Examiner H. E. Marten said he learned Engelberg was a German intelligence officer engaged in espionage.

The body of the quiet 42-year-old secretary of the German consulate here was found in his Brooklyn home Wednesday, the head battered beyond recognition. He had been dead 24 hours. Engelberg's physician identified the body from operating scars.

Police appeared skeptical that any espionage activity was directly responsible for the attaché's death and hinted the probable answer lay in the personal life of the man, in whose rooms they found 30 or more photographs of nude men.

Gov. Bricker blames WPA For Relief Crises In Cities

Raise money for poor relief. Cleveland officials have voiced intention to sell them to the school fund.

Ferguson's Statement
Ferguson, a member of the retirement fund board by virtue of his office, said in a statement:

"In all previous crises during the depression this has never been done and I intend to protect the interests of the school teachers of Lee and see that their money is invested in sound securities."

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the residence in Berlin Center in charge of Rev. A. Stockslager, pastor of the Lutheran church. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the residence. Interment will be made in Hartzel cemetery at North Benton.

Bricker's prepared statement in reply to Mr. Roosevelt follows:

"Ohio's relief situation is in very good shape. The real cause of the trouble, whatever trouble there is, is due to the WPA in Cuyahoga county during an election year raising its rolls 74,000 persons and then suddenly slashing them back to 30,000 persons after the election was over."

The federal authorities are doing a lot of talking and very little to help the situation. They seem more interested in the politics of the affair than in helping the needy. They have only aggravated the situation. There will be adequate help for all the needy. There would be no problem in Cleveland if the WPA had taken its employees from the relief rolls instead of hiring thousands who were not clients."

"If the federal authorities are so interested in the welfare of the people of Ohio, why is it that they have failed to repay the state the $1,300,000 in old age pension funds withheld because of a political row?"

King's Daughters

At Columbiana Will Have Party Tuesday

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 8. — The Christmas party of the King's Daughters class of Grace Reformed church will be held next Tuesday at the church, starting with a turkey dinner at 6:30 p.m. Members are to bring their own table service and a gift for the exchange. The hostess committee is composed of Mrs. W. B. Treadwell, Mrs. Myron Brubaker, Miss Lois Fire, Mrs. Ivan Reash, Misses Marie and Cathryn Roller and Mrs. Leah Hitchcock.

The December meeting of the Columbiana County Council of the American Legion will be held at the local American Legion hall Friday evening. The next regular Benjamin Firestone post meeting will be Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, when a vote will be taken authorizing the appointment of a building committee to investigate the prospect of a legion home here.

ALLIES DIFFER ON REDS' COURSE

Britain and France at "Slight Variance Over What to Do About Soviet Russia"

GENEVA, Dec. 8.—Slight differences between Great Britain and France over what to do about Soviet Russia were reported today in League of Nations circles.

The league council is scheduled to meet Saturday and the assembly Monday to consider the Russian-Finnish question at Finland's behest.

France was said in many neutral quarters to favor supporting the Soviet move to expel Russia from the league because of the invasion of Finland.

Britain, these quarters said, is apprehensive lest the proceedings turn into a Red-baiting session and divert attention from Germany as the Allies' enemy No. 1.

The French, with an anti-Communist drive at home, were said to be more willing to hold Russia a violator of the covenant. It was widely believed that the temper of other league members was such that the French view would prevail over the British.

The Latin-American nations were reported in no humor to tolerate either delay or compromise and the French were said to fear that any resignations by those states would bring other withdrawals by European neutrals.

He was born in Green township March 7, 1886. He was a member of the Greenfield Lutheran church.

FDR'S CHARGES BRING ANSWER

Gov. Bricker blames WPA For Relief Crises In Cities

raise money for poor relief. Cleveland officials have voiced intention to sell them to the school fund.

Ferguson's Statement

Ferguson, a member of the retirement fund board by virtue of his office, said in a statement:

"In all previous crises during the depression this has never been done and I intend to protect the interests of the school teachers of Ohio and see that their money is invested in sound securities."

"I am of the opinion that the end has been reached in the issuing of bonds against delinquent tax collections."

Bricker's prepared statement in reply to Mr. Roosevelt follows:

"Ohio's relief situation is in very good shape. The real cause of the trouble, whatever trouble there is, is due to the WPA in Cuyahoga county during an election year raising its rolls 74,000 persons and then suddenly slashing them back to 30,000 persons after the election was over."

The federal authorities are doing a lot of talking and very little to help the situation. They seem more interested in the politics of the affair than in helping the needy. They have only aggravated the situation. There will be adequate help for all the needy. There would be no problem in Cleveland if the WPA had taken its employees from the relief rolls instead of hiring thousands who were not clients."

"If the federal authorities are so interested in the welfare of the people of Ohio, why is it that they have failed to repay the state the $1,200,000 in old age pension funds withheld because of a political row?"

WILLIAM BAUMGARDNER

Mrs. James Britt of Woodland ave., received word of the death of her father, William Baumgardner, 79, at 7 a.m. today at his home, 420 West New Castle st., Zelienople, Pa. He had been ill about three months.

Mr. Baumgardner was formerly in the oil well business, retiring several years ago. He was well known in the vicinity through his hobby of collecting and repairing guns. His wife died a year ago.

Besides Mrs. Britt, he is survived by two other daughters, three sons and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the home in Zelienople. Burial will be in that city.

MRS. O. H. SEBRING

SEBRING, Dec. 8.—Arrangements were begun today to bring the body of Mrs. O. H. Sebring here for interment beside her husband in the family mausoleum at Grandview cemetery.

Funeral service was to have been held today at Los Angeles where Mrs. Sebring died Tuesday following a stroke.

Mrs. Sebring, 78, was the widow of O. H. Sebring, one of the brothers who founded the village of Sebring.

Born in East Liverpool, she came here in 1899, residing here until 1933, when she moved to California. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Mrs. Homer J. Taylor, Mrs. Ray Y. Cliff and Miss Wilda in Hitchcock.

The December meeting of the Columbiana County Council of the American Legion will be held at the local American Legion hall Friday evening. The next regular Benjamin Firestone post meeting will be Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, when a vote will be taken authorizing the appointment of a building committee to investigate the prospect of a legion home here.

The Junior Girl Reserves held a co-ed dance at school auditorium Wednesday evening with about 35 present. Following dancing refreshments were served.

Members of the Rosemont club will entertain their husbands at a dinner party at Valley Golf club this evening.

A group of ladies were entertained at an all-day quilting party Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. J. Steele, Elm st. At noon a cordial dinner was enjoyed.

Mrs. Clarence E. Smith of North Lima spent Thursday in Columbiana with friends.

The choir of the Presbyterian church will hold a dinner party at the church at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14. The dinner will be served by the Towson class and husbands and wives of members will be guests. Mrs. Virginia Felger is chairman of plans. Following the dinner, regular practice will be held.

Goldberg Weds

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Goldberg, former Pitt grid star now playing with the Chicago pro Cardinals, will be married Sunday to Florence Detlebaum, 19-year-old Pittsburgh model. After a wedding trip in the east, they will reside at Chicago.

WINKLER STOKERS

Years Ahead In Money Saving and Work Saving Features

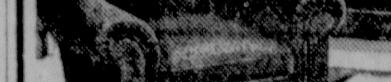

Why do thousands and thousands buy Winklers instead of some other brand? It is because Winkler gives them the most money!

You get a bigger, sturdier, easier-to-clean, almost fool-proof machine that will do more work for less money.

The nervous Winkler Interlocking Frame eliminates shear pins, without the use of catches or motor overload.

This new machine cuts the cost of Winkler to little more than the very cheapest—but superior quality, and longer life, Winkler gives greater fuel savings.

THE LOWEST IN COST.

DEATHS

MRS. EMORY J. MYERS

Mrs. Emma Myers, 70, died at 2:45 a.m. Thursday at her home in Berlin Center after a year's illness.

She was born in Mineral Ridge and had spent most of her life in the vicinity of Berlin Center. She was a member of the North Berlin Lutheran church.

Surviving are her husband, Emory J. Myers at the home; two daughters, Mrs. Ota Hoyt of Alliance, Mrs. Blanchie Robinson of Walcott; a son, Ward E. Myers of Berlin Center; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Eckis, Mrs. Katharine Parker of Youngstown; three brothers, David Evans of Bergoli, Benjamin Evans of Massillon and Thomas Evans of Lisbon; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the residence in Berlin Center in charge of Rev. A. Stockslager, pastor of the Lutheran church. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the residence.

Interment will be made in Hartzel cemetery at North Benton.

Bricker's prepared statement in reply to Mr. Roosevelt follows:

"Ohio's relief situation is in very good shape. The real cause of the trouble, whatever trouble there is, is due to the WPA in Cuyahoga county during an election year raising its rolls 74,000 persons and then suddenly slashing them back to 30,000 persons after the election was over."

CHARLES J. GOODMAN

Charles J. Goodman, 53, of Leetonia, died at 4:45 a.m. Thursday in the Central Clinic following a week's illness of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was born in Green township March 7, 1886. He was a member of the Greenwood Lutheran church.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Dressel of Green township, Mrs. Emma Viola Rhodes of Canfield, Mrs. Emma Knauf of Ellsworth township, Mrs. Celesta Hively of Greenford; four brothers, Morris of Greenford, Eli of Canfield, Leonard of Berlin Center and Wallace of Iowa.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the church in Greenford in charge of Rev. E. O. Hilt. Burial will be in Calla.

Friends may call at the Arbaugh funeral home this evening.

NEW HARD ORE
BATTERS STEEL

May Revolutionize Manufacture of Fire-
Bricks In U. S.

PITTSBURGH, Cal. — The discovery of a new metallic ore called pinitite in the mining area of Pershing county, Nev., soon may revolutionize the manufacture of fire bricks in this country, mining engineers revealed here.

Geologists and laboratory technicians announced discovery of the refractory material some time ago, but now have revealed results of extensive tests made on the ore.

The pinitite ore deposit is located 18 miles east of Lovelock, Nev., on the east side of the Humboldt River, company officials said.

One thousand tons of the material have been shipped during the past summer and a crew of men is now at work taking out and shipping more, it was announced.

Tests Called Conclusive

Engineers explained that scientific and practical work on pinitite has been going on for several years.
The result, they said, is the development of a fire brick that is superior to anything that has yet been placed on the market.

Engineers said pinitite is a hydrous aluminum silicate. When the ore is processed and made into bricks it becomes extremely hard and resistant to chemical and acid action, they said.

The ore is white, soft and resembles soapstone. The deposit is 40 feet thick, 450 feet long and slopes eastward into the hill in which it is located to an unknown depth.

Scientists have hailed the discovery as the only one of its kind in the world. Dr. Paul F. Kerr of Columbia University, New York, recently conducted a lengthy investigation into the deposit in collaboration with V. R. Sulivan, noted authority on ceramics.

First Use of Pinitite

Pinitite has never been used before. It is made into bricks which so far have been used almost exclusively in the ceramic industry.
Laboratory technicians here said tests of pinitite bricks in a high-temperature enamel furnace showed them to be able to withstand chemical action nearly three times as long as any other type brick.

Other uses of pinitite are seen in the magnesite, cinnabar, cement and other industries where there is rotary smelting to be done. Because the material has a rated hardness of eight, it can stand up under terrific abrasion, at the same time resisting chemical action. Pinitite fuses at the high temperature of 3,000 degrees.

Engineers said pinitite was nearly as hard as corundum, the hardest material next to the diamond.
It is harder than glass and steel,
they said.

Company officials said there was little likelihood of large scale operations in Pershing county this year, but the size of the deposit and the large-scale possibilities for use of pinitite bricks and compounds indicates that large-scale operations over a long period can be expected soon.

Nazi Sub Sunk by British Bomb Plane

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A British plane sank a German submarine with bombs this morning, the air ministry announced.

The announcement said that one bomb struck the submarine amidships a yard to the starboard of the conning tower.

The submarine began to sink. Then a second bomb fell directly above her as she floundered partly.

"For some time after the submarine disappeared, oil and bubbles were seen rising to the surface," the announcement said.

OSLO, Dec. 8.—The British steamer Thomas Walton was reported today to have sunk in Vestfjord, on the northern Norwegian coast, after an unexplained explosion last night which killed 16 of her crew of 46.

Some of the survivors were rescued by a German ship which put them ashore at Bodoe, Norway. (Lloyd's shipping registry lists the Thomas Walton as a vessel of 4,460 tons.)

Hurt In Collision

Dr. O. J. Stevenson, 57, of the Depot road, suffered head injuries when his automobile and a truck collided head-on on the New Waterford-Negley road, just east of New Waterford, at 8:30 a. m. today, the state highway patrol reported.

John Gilmore, 36, of R. D. 2, New Waterford, driver of the truck, escaped uninjured.

LISBON, Dec. 8.—Among 51 liquor permit holders ordered today to appear at hearings in Columbus Dec. 12 to answer charges of violating state regulations is Raymond Pritchett, who operates an establishment near the junction of Routes 7 and 30.

Finland Invasion Is Called Outrage

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Premier Daladier in his first public utterance on Soviet Russia's invasion of Finland told a cheering chamber of deputies "an abominable outrage" evoking "universal disgust."

"Finland has France's salute and assurance of profound and strong sympathy," the premier declared.

It was understood that Auguste de Champetier de Riba, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs and former Premier Joseph Paul Boncour would represent France at the meeting of the League of Nations on the Finnish-Russian issue which Jean Mistler, president of the chamber of deputies' foreign affairs committee predicted would "condemn this odious aggression."

MAJOR LEAGUE MEETING NEAR WNDUP TODAY

Baseball Men Hasten Annual Sessions Toward Quick End

BY GAYLE TALBOT
CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—The baseball convention sped today toward everyone concerned fervently that would be a premature conclusion. Barring a hitch, most of the weary delegates expected to be on the way home by mid-afternoon, full day ahead of their original schedule.

As they appeared jointly before and today, the American leaguers felt somewhat more comfortable than did their National league cousins. They had the forethought yesterday to present the commissioners with a big red apple.

Reject Measures
After the national leaguers had voted their approval of three rule amendments calculated to curb the judge's power, the American leaguers as unanimously rejected the three measures. The junior leaguers put themselves, solidly behind the boss man, thus placing him in position to break the tie with his own vote today. There was much conjecture on the judge's probable reaction to this strange situation.

Meantime, the palm already had been presented to President Clark Griffith of Washington for having engineered the one really spicy piece of business of the whole convention. The "Old Fox," who is always coming up with some scheme or other, finally put one over.

From now on no championship game of the American league will be able to acquire a player from any other club in the circuit except by the waiver route. That means the Yankees now haven't a hope of obtaining an established star like Buck Newsom of Detroit or George McQuinn of the Browns, with whom to further overwhelm the opposition.

Went Wreck Yanks
Not that this is going to wreck the Yankees. As a matter of fact, President Ed. Barrows voted for the rule himself, just to make it unanimous. As he pointed out, the stars of the present great team, with the exception of the Veterans Red Ruffing and Monte Pearson, all came up from the minors. So he thought that the Yankees would be able to struggle along with fellows like DiMaggio, Dickey, Gordon and Keller. But Griffith at last felt that he had struck a blow and that in time its effects would be felt.

The only voiced objection to the rule, dizzily enough, came from a couple of managers of rival American league teams. Neither wanted to be quoted, but each of them obviously had entertained some hope of making a trade for one or more of the Yankees surplus stars. They let it hurt them more than it did the champions, and they were disgusted. The National league turned down the idea last night, preferring to leave its champions unscathed.

COLLEGE LEAGUE OPENS MEETING

Defeat Seen for Ohio Conference Championship Measure

WESTERVILLE, Dec. 8—Ohio Athletic conference members opened their winter meeting today amid reports they would turn thumbs down on a plan to name champions in major sports.

Other business on the agenda included Wilmington college's membership application, a request by Athletic Director L. C. Boles of Wooster college for clarification of the intercollegiate cross-country schedule, and election of officers. Dr. M. S. Douglas of Case, conference vice president, was slated to succeed President R. F. Martin head of Oberlein's athletic department, for a two-year term.

Informed sources said members' position probably would prevent effectiveness of a resolution to name conference champions in football, basketball and baseball.

Was Approved
The resolution was approved by a simple majority at the league's spring session, but constitutional requirements call for confirmation by a two-thirds vote in the event of protest.

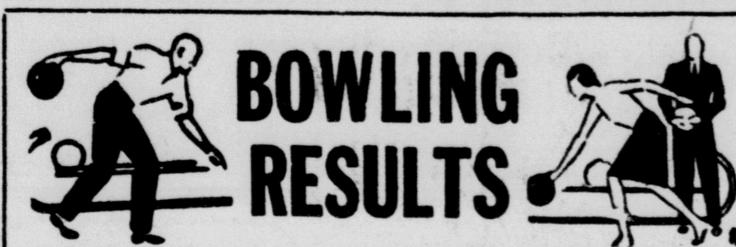

Boles recently asked the conference to determine how many schools planned to participate in intercollegiate cross-country.

"I think that we should make an effort to settle whether we are going to have cross-country each year just when we have a good runner, as some of the schools seem to be doing," his communication said.

Championship Bouts Offered Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8—Cleveland fans today were offered something rare in boxing—a card including two world's championship fights. The double-title setup resulted from a last minute agreement by Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, to have the welterweight champion risk his crown in a 10-round bout with Jimmy Gardiner, of Kansas City, next Monday. The fight had been billed as a non-title affair.

BOWLING RESULTS

Increasing the distance between themselves and the second-place Washingtonville Odd Fellows, Smith's Creamery keglers posted three wins over the Odd Fellows in the Commercial league at the Grade Recreation alleys last night. The victories boosted the Smith team's lead over the Odd Fellows from three to six games.

Merit Shoes moved to within one game of tying the Odd Fellows for second place as they took two out of three games from the Jaycee All-Stars. Other matches gave the Crescent Machine two wins over the Trades Class, the Bliss triumphs over the Ohio Bell, Berg Bretzels three wins over the Leetonia Eagles and People's Lumber a trio of victories over the Salem Polo Club.

The 12-team league produced an unusual occurrence when tie games were rolled in two matches. Smith's Creamery and the Odd Fellows deadlocked at 819 in one game of their match. Smith's won the roll-off. In another match, the Crescent Machine and Trades Class tied at 818. The roll-off saw the Crescent take the game.

The Purchasing Dept. dropped from first place in the Electric Furnace league at the Masonic temple alleys, losing two out of three games to the Draftsmen, who took over the leading position on the strength of their two wins.

In other Electric Furnace matches, the Machinists won two out of three games with the Electricians, the Transformers gained two wins over the Office and the Structural Dept. posted two victories over the Shippers.

The junior players put themselves solidly behind the boss man, thus placing him in position to break the tie with his own vote today. There was much conjecture on the judge's probable reaction to this strange situation.

Meantime, the palm already had been presented to President Clark Griffith of Washington for having engineered the one really spicy piece of business of the whole convention. The "Old Fox," who is always coming up with some scheme or other, finally put one over.

From now on no championship team of the American league will be able to acquire a player from any other club in the circuit except by the waiver route. That means the Yankees now haven't a hope of obtaining an established star, like Buck Newsom of Detroit or George McQuinn of the Browns, with whom to further overwhelm the opposition.

Wreck Yanks
Not that this is going to wreck the Yankees. As a matter of fact, President Ed. Barrows voted for the rule himself, just to make it unanimous. As he pointed out, the stars of the present great team, with the exception of the Veterans Red Ruffing and Monte Pearson, all came up from the minors. So we thought that the Yankees would be able to struggle along with fellows like DiMaggio, Dickey, Gordon and Keller. But Griffith at least felt that he had struck a blow, and that in time its effects would be felt.

The only voiced objection to the rule, dizzily enough, came from a couple of managers of rival American league teams. Neither wanted to be quoted, but each of them obviously had entertained some hope of making a trade for one or more of the Yankees surplus stars. They felt it hurt them more than it did the champions, and they were disgusted. The National league turned down the idea last night, preferring to leave its champions unscathed.

COLLEGE LEAGUE OPENS MEETING

Defeat Seen for Ohio Conference Championship Measure

WESTERVILLE, Dec. 8—Ohio Athletic conference members opened their winter meeting today amid reports they would turn thumbs down on a plan to name champions in major sports.

Other business on the agenda included Wilmington college's membership application, a request by Athletic Director L. C. Boles of Wooster college for clarification of the intercollegiate crosscountry schedule, and election of officers.

Dr. M. S. Douglas of Case, conference vice president, was slated to succeed President R. F. Martin head of Otterbein's athletic department, for a two-year term.

Informed sources said members' opposition probably would prevent effectiveness of a resolution to name conference champions in football, basketball and baseball.

Was Approved
The resolution was approved by a simple majority at the league's spring session, but constitutional requirements call for confirmation by a two-thirds vote in the event of protest.

Boles recently asked the conference to determine how many schools planned to participate in intercollegiate cross-country.

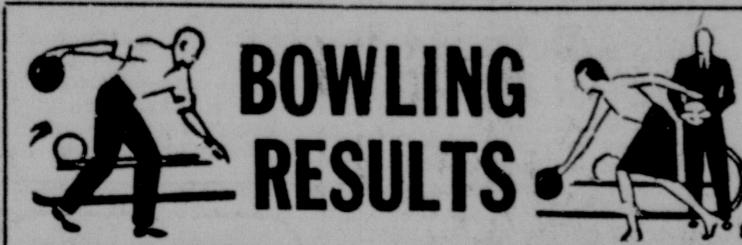

"I think that we should make an effort to settle whether we are going to have cross-country each year just when we have a good runner, as some of the schools seem to be doing," his communication said.

Championship Bouts Offered Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8—Cleveland fans today were offered something in boxing—a card including two world's championship fights.

The double-title setup resulted from a last minute agreement by Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, to have the welterweight champion risk his crown in a 10-round bout with Jimmy Garrison, of Kansas City, next Monday. The fight had been billed as a non-title affair.

BOWLING RESULTS

Increasing the distance between themselves and the second-place Washingtonville Odd Fellows, Smith's Creamery keglers posted three wins over the Odd Fellows in the Commercial league at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

The victories boosted the Smith team's lead over the Odd Fellows from three to six games.

Merit Shoes moved to within one game of tying the Odd Fellows for second place as they took two out of three games from the Jaycee All-Stars. Other matches gave the Crescent Machine two wins over the Trades Class, the Bliss triumphs over the Ohio Bell, Berg Bretzels three wins over the Leetonia Eagles and People's Lumber a trio of victories over the Salem Polo Club.

The 12-team league produced an unusual occurrence when the games were rolled in two matches. Smith's Creamery and the Odd Fellows deadlocked at 8-8 in one game of their match. Smith's won the roll-off. In another match, the Crescent Machine and Trades Class tied at 8-8. The roll-off saw the Crescent take the game.

The Purchasing Dept. dropped from first place in the Electric Furnace league at the Masonic temple alleys, losing two out of three games to the Draftsmen, who took over the leading position on the strength of their two wins.

In other Electric Furnace matches, the Machinists won two out of three games with the Electricians, the Transformers gained two wins over the Office and the Structural Dept. posted two victories over the Shippers.

"KNIGHT ERRANT"

by Jack McDonald

CHAPTER XXX

Heather was still and white, her wide eyes fixed on the track as if frightened by what she saw there. Going into the backstretch Rattle and Roll had opened up five lengths of daylight on Knight Errant, still in second place Slim groaned with anxiety. Would Draper lose his head and foolishly take out after this "morning glory"? Not if he remembered Slim's riding orders. But muddled with last night's drinking and the moment's fury, how much would Draper remember?

Knight Errant was in the backstretch straightaway now and Slim saw the jockey loosen the reins and let Knight Errant out a little. "He's just beginning to run!" Slim reported through tight lips.

The real racing was about to begin now. Time Supply moved up and challenged, but Knight Errant moved right along with the challenger, surging forward like a wave on an angry tide. That supreme effort killed off Time Supply. He began to drop back, raced into defeat.

Midway down the backstretch, game little Top Row made a run at Knight Errant. Once more Draper let out a wrap of reins. Again Knight Errant cascaded forward; Tow Row had fired and fell back, a beaten horse.

Slim's glasses moved from Knight Errant to the back of the pack to pick up Comanche, just beginning to lengthen his stride and pass trailing horses on the outside.

Quickly Slim ran his glasses again to the front. Knight Errant had just caught the tiring Rattle and Roll. Draper was eaving him back for the breathing spell. Heather's horse would need before the valiant stretch ordeal against Comanche that was bound to come when the big horse made his run.

The tension eased momentarily. Slim clicked his stopwatch as Knight Errant came to the pole, and marveled at Draper's instinct for rating his mount.

"Perfect!" he breathed. "I told Dimples if he could rate Knight Errant three-quarters in 1:10 4-5 and still sandwich in a short breather, he'd win the race. And Draper is right on schedule, the watch split at 1:10 4-5."

"What is it, Slim? Something is wrong?" Her blue eyes pleaded for an answer. Slim's response was toneless. "He's lost a stirrup." But it was worse than that. Slim knew. So did Charlie Bassitt, down by the rail.

"Doublecrossed!" Bassitt groaned. "I've been crossed. You can't trust nobody around a race track anymore. That kid's flashing my mirror on the wrong horse."

For it was Knight Errant, not Comanche that was blinded by the reflection of the livid Santa Anita sun from a mirror hidden in a tree by the track! Slim, sickening, saw the blinded, maddened horse bolt to the outside, completely out of Draper's control. The gap Knight Errant opened on the field closed behind him like a door slammed in a hurricane. And Comanche sped forward through space like a comet!

Slim saw Knight Errant floundering. It was as if the horse had suddenly broken into a million pieces. But in a flash Draper had gathered the reins as if picking up the shattered pieces and putting them together again. With a mighty lash of the whip on the flanks he got Knight Errant in stride again.

It was a grim battle now rounding the bend for possession of the rail. Knight Errant hadn't surrendered the lead. But Comanche was gaining with every stride.

The two horses were entering the stretch. Knight Errant, in front by two lengths, was hugging the rail. He swung just wide enough as he hit the stretch for Draper to hear from behind:

"Open up, I'm coming through."

It was the cry of Morgan on Comanche.

Pushing on Knight Errant with every ounce of strength, his head bent low over the horse's neck, Draper turned and barked defiantly:

"Hang onto my saddle, you might get second."

Draper did open up room for Comanche, but Comanche never got through. Slim's strategy had clicked.

Comanche lost ground by going to the inside but quickly came again. To the tumultuous roar of the crowd that echoed to the peaks of the Sierra Madres, the two horses came to the eight pole head and head with both riders flailing away with their whips.

Seventy yards from the wire they were still head to head. And in that final leap to the wire Comanche was only a nose off Knight Errant. Draper reached for the whip, gave his horse one mighty final lash, then shone on his neck, literally flailing Knight Errant under the wire.

Winner by a head! The judges didn't wait for a photo.

Slim and Heather looked at each other. Their faces shone.

"I thought you said you were going to faint if he won?" Slim whooped.

To your double victory," Edith whooped.

"May I?" squealed Heather happily. "O, Slim, when?"

He opened his arms. She fell into them shaking with tears and exultation and laughter.

Bassitt, puffing on an enormous cigar, had a stack of $100 bills in his outstretched arm, ready to hand them to the cashier, when two detectives, one on each side, stepped up.

"We'll take these," said one, snatching them from Bassitt's hand.

"We've been trailing you all day," Bassitt. They caught the kid up in the tree with the mirror red handed. Come along, the judge's got some questions to ask you."

Bassitt, even in panic, went through with his customary bluff.

"The track'll have a fine damage suit on its hands when I get through with 'em," he threatened defiantly.

"Sure," said the "dicks" smugly.

"You can file the suit in Alcatraz."

The crescendo of the day's victory was still ringing like an unforgettable rhapsody in Heather's heart as early that evening, in her modest Hollywood apartment, she studied the gold engraved invitation card—"Santa Anita Ball, Ambassador Hotel, 9 p.m."

Slim was on his way. He had called her the moment before from a nearby telegraph office, where he had stopped to wire Flo, happily that instead of betting her $50 in the mutuels at 8 to 1 on Knight Errant he had long since placed it in the future book at 50 to 1!

Minutes later Heather and Slim were speeding down Sunset boulevard.

"Here!" he yelled. "And now!" He opened his arms. She fell into them, shaking with tears and exultation and laughter.

"Perfect!" he breathed. "I told Dimples if he could rate Knight Errant three-quarters in 1:10 4-5 and still sandwich in a short breather, he'd win the race. And Draper is right on schedule. The watch split at 1:10 4-5."

"What is it, Slim? Something is wrong?" Her blue eyes pleaded for an answer. Slim's response was toneless. "He's lost a stirrup." But it was worse than that. Slim knew. So did Charlie Bassitt, down by the rail.

"Doublecrossed!" Bassitt groaned. "I've been crossed. You can't trust nobody around a race track anymore. That kid's flashing my mirror on the wrong horse."

For it was Knight Errant, not Comanche that was blinded by the reflection of the livid Santa Anita sun from a mirror hidden in a tree by the track! Slim, sickening, saw the blinded, maddened horse bolt to the outside, completely out of Draper's control. The gap Knight Errant opened on the field closed behind him like a door slammed in a hurricane. And Comanche sped forward through space like a comet!

Slim saw Knight Errant floundering. It was as if the horse had suddenly broken into a million pieces. But in a flash Draper had gathered the reins as if picking up the shattered pieces and putting them together again. With a mighty lash of the whip on the flanks he got Knight Errant in stride again.

It was a grim battle now rounding the bend for possession of the rail. Knight Errant hadn't surrendered the lead. But Comanche was gaining with every stride.

The two horses were entering the stretch. Knight Errant, in front by two lengths, was hugging the rail. He swung just wide enough as he hit the stretch for Draper to hear from behind:

"Open up, I'm coming through." It was the cry of Morgan on Comanche.

Pushing on Knight Errant with every ounce of strength, his head bent low over the horse's neck, Draper turned and barked defiantly:

"Hang onto my saddle, you might get second."

Draper did open up room for Comanche, but Comanche never got through. Slim's strategy had clicked.

Comanche lost ground by going to the inside but quickly came again. To the tumultuous roar of the crowd that echoed to the peaks of the Sierra Madres, the two horses came to the eight pole head and head with both riders tailing away with their whips.

Seventy yards from the wire were still head to head. And in that final leap to the wire Comanche was only a nose off Knight Errant. Draper reached for the whip, gave his horse one mighty final lash, then shoved on his neck, literally hurling Knight Errant under the wire.

Winner is head to head! The judges didn't wait for a photo.

Slim and Heather looked at each other. Their faces shone. "I thought you said you were going to faint if he won?" Slim whooped.

"May 17," squealed Heather happily. "O, Slim, when?"

"Here!" he yelled. "And now!" He opened his arms. She fell into them, shaking with tears and exultation and laughter.

"Perfect!" he breathed. "I told Dimples if he could rate Knight Errant three-quarters in 1:10 4-5 and still sandwich in a short breather, he'd win the race. And Draper is right on schedule. The watch split at 1:10 4-5."

RADIATION RAYS ATTACK CANCER

Experiments Being Conducted At California University

BERKELEY, CAL — The most powerful forces known to science are undergoing experiments in the radiation laboratory of the University of California in an effort to find a cure for cancer.

This new attack on the dread malady is being carried on by Dr. Margaret Lewis, research fellow in the laboratory, and Dr. Warren Lewis of the Carnegie Institute in Washington.

Their findings are being reported to and checked by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, director of the laboratory, recent Nobel prize winner, and inventor of the cyclotron, which through the breaking of atoms releases a degree of energy that proves them to be the most powerful forces in the world.

To date, cancer treatment has met with its greatest success in the use of radium and X-rays. Experiments, however, have demonstrated that the neutron ray is formed when Lawrence's cyclotron breaks up an atom and releases an energy hitherto undreamed of, constitutes the most powerful radiation ray known.

To Test Full Effect

The experiments being made are to determine the full effect of these neutron rays not only on human cells but on cells from vegetable life as well.

The life cells used for the experiments are ones that are taken from the human body and then developed in an artificial media.

A cell-by-cell examination of the effects of the neutron ray on both normal and malignant human tissue is being made and it is hoped to demonstrate the precise effect which the rays have on cancerous growths.

Experiments so far have determined that the neutron ray has distinct advantages over the most powerful X-rays in the breaking down of malignant tissue cells, but this advantage, it is added, is not maintained in the reaction of the ray on normal cells.

It has been found necessary as a result that the university has announced to study in the most detailed manner possible the reactions of the neutron ray on both types of cells so that this new therapeutic use may be developed to the best possible advantage.

It is explained that the cells still in an active stage are being grown in an artificial media outside the human body.

Simultaneous experiments on the action of the neutron ray on vegetable cells are being conducted in an effort to round out the entire picture of neutron and X-ray radiation on cellular growth.

The most powerful X-rays attainable have been established in the laboratory so that comparison in both types of radiation may be made.

Busy Bees Enjoy Annual Yule Fete In Washingtonville

WASHINGTONVILLE, Dec. 8 — Busy Bees of the Methodist church held their annual Christmas party Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Myrtle Baker. A chicken supper was served with places laid for 34.

The table was centered with a lighted Christmas tree and other Christmas appointments and favors. The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Harvey Baker, who was presented a gift.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Helen Archer, Mrs. Albert Cox and Mrs. S. J. Shoemaker of Leetonia. Contests and games were enjoyed with prizes won by Mrs. Louis Atkinson and Mrs. J. H. Pike. An exchange of gifts concluded the evening's entertainment.

The meeting in January will be held in the home of Mrs. William Falloon, assisted by Mrs. Charles Geiger.

Mrs. David Weikart was a dinner guest Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Weikart at Leetonia. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Weikart of East Palestine and Mr. and Mrs. Don Harbold of this place.

Party Is Enjoyed

Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held their Christmas party in the church parlor Friday evening. An exchange of gifts was made. Lunch was served by Mrs. Ed Longbottom, Mrs. Eliza Atkinson and Mrs. Jacob Stecker.

Eleven tables were in play at a card party given by the Pythian Sisters in the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening. Bridge prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Putzkaner; in "500" by Mrs. William Grim and Norman Kornbau; Mrs. Ansel Senheiser and Lloyd Briggs.

Lunch was served. Another party will be held in four weeks.

Women's Missionary society met in the home of Mrs. Russell Smith Thursday afternoon when a barrel of fruit, clothing and books was packed for the Pearl station. Youngstown.

U. S. Reserves Its Rights In British Blockade of Ships

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 — The United States, it was learned today, has reserved all its rights under International law in connection with Britain's order in council to stop German exports from being made through neutral countries.

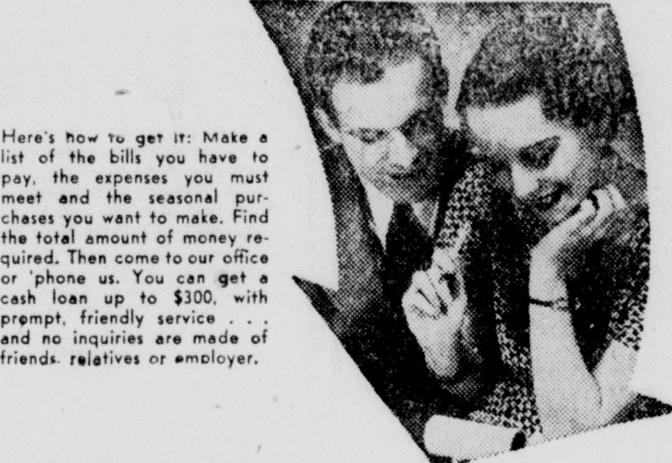

It is understood this reservation has been communicated to the British ambassador, Lord Lothian, for transmission to his government.

The reservation of rights, which was said to be strictly not in the nature of an open protest, was based on two points:

—A question of principle under International law. In the World war the United States, as long as it was neutral, refused to accept the British commercial blockade of Germany.

PITTSBURGH — Although Austria and Czechoslovakia have been rubbed off European maps, U. S. commercial map-makers are standing firm on the Polish invasion. The familiar pink area used to designate the former Republic of Poland will remain unchanged until the war in Europe is over, according to William Tauch, representative of a large map-making concern.

U. S. Reserves Its Rights In British Blockade of Ships

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The United States really needs some of the articles it used to purchase in Germany. Among these are fine precision instruments. Officials are interested in seeing that these continue to come to the United States.

It is understood that Britain is willing to make a concession on the point of such essential purchases to permit them to come out.

Having reserved its rights under International law, the United States will be in position to file any claims to damages which might result from the British order against German exports.

Coast Guard Patrol Watch
Intensified Since New War

(By United Press)

By OTTO JANSEN

WASHINGTON — The United States Coast Guard, Uncle Sam's "second navy," has maintained an increased vigilance along the nation's thousands of miles of coastline since the outbreak of the European war.

Besides carrying on its extensive normal peacetime duties, the Coast Guard is cooperating with the Navy in guarding against violations of United States neutrality.

It is not officially disclosed how large a part of the Coast Guard is playing in Neutrality Patrol work, but it is known that shortly after hostilities began President Roosevelt ordered 2,000 men added to the service's personnel and that several large cutters were ordered from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast to take up patrol duty.

16,000 Enlisted

When the British freighter Coulmore reported an attack by submarine off New England on Nov. 1, it was the Coast Guard which first snapped into action.

Two of the new vessels were ordered to Boston, Mass., and another to Norfolk, Va. A fourth was dispatched all the way from Cordova, Alaska, to New York City.

The Coast Guard's personnel now totals over 16,000 — a larger force than that of all but the major sea powers.

In addition to the 2,000 men added since the war augmented by some 5,200 men of the Lighthouse Service. This service was consolidated with the Coast Guard a short time ago by virtue of President Roosevelt's reorganization plan.

Air Branch, Too

The consolidation also added to the Coast Guard some 60 vessels ranging from 60 to 280 feet in length. This brings the total strength of the "coastal fleet" to over 2,000 vessels.

Although most of the vessels are relatively small, the Coast Guard boasts nearly two score cruising cutters ranging up to 328 feet and capable of weathering the heaviest seas. Many of these carry five-inch guns of great destructive power. In war time six-inchers—larger than those carried by United States destroyers—can be mounted.

Like the Navy, the Coast Guard has its own "air arm" consisting of a fleet of long-range patrol planes. Coastal Lines

The Coast Guard maintains approximately 200 stations along the coasts of continental United States and in Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska and other areas under U. S. jurisdiction.

In peace time the Coast Guard operates under the Treasury department but upon the outbreak of war in which this country is a belligerent the entire service immediately and automatically comes under the Navy department's jurisdiction.

The Coast Guard was the nation's first sea defense force and has performed outstanding service in all hostilities in which the United States has been a belligerent. An academy is maintained for the training of officer personnel much in the manner of the Army's "West Point" and the Navy's "Annapolis".

Turned Down Cold

SHENANDOAH, Ia. — The issue before the voters was a $13,000 bond issue for a swimming pool, but it was December and it was cold.

So only 462 turned out, less than one-fourth of the registration, and they gave the project the cold shoulder by 29 votes.

WOOSTER — Governor John W. Bricker paid an early morning call to the L. Brenner residence near West Salem, but it was not in the interest of state business. The governor, passing by the Brenner home, discovered the house on fire and halted to warn the family.

The Chrysler Corporation's great plants are alive with activity... the workers are busy in the team-play of trained minds and skilled hands... building the finest, most popular automobiles the Corporation ever built... the 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler.

WHEN WE SAY that Chrysler Corporation's great plants are "Delivering the Goods" we mean everything the phrase means...

DELIVERING THE GOODS... in the sense that experienced workers are building the finest and most popular automobiles in Chrysler Corporation's history.

DELIVERING THE GOODS... in the sense that millions of dollars a day in raw materials are coming in across the receiving platforms as trainload after train-load of new automobiles move out to dealers and the public.

DELIVERING THE GOODS... in the sense that

1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars represent today's most beautiful styling, the most advanced engineering and the finest workmanship.

DELIVERING THE GOODS... in the sense that

1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars not only live up to that high expectation—they exceed it!

It is an inspiring thing to see the quick responsiveness people show for outstanding value—the kind of value that is self-evident in car size, beauty, luxury, riding comfort, advanced engineering and fine workmanship.

Equally inspiring—urging us on to ever greater progress—is the unswerving confidence and loyalty of the merchants who sell and service our products.

Such staunch and widespread confidence and support strongly indorse our policies and principles of good manufacturing and sound merchandising.

We believe—and always have believed—that quality goes beyond good machinery and good materials. It lies in engineering genius, care and precision of manufacture, complete and thorough inspection.

Furthermore, millions of Americans choose to believe that of all manufacturers, Chrysler Corporation is particularly and notably successful in achieving the combined goal of low price and highest quality.

The 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars are by far the greatest values we have ever built—in smart styling, size, luxurious tailoring and appointments, riding quality and performance.

We know it—our dealers know it—the men who build the cars know it—and it is common knowledge and talk throughout the country.

May we suggest that you see your nearby Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer? He will gladly let the car you are interested in speak for itself, for him and for us.

Dieting Dogs

INDIANAPOLIS—A hunger strike at the city dog pound proved a big success.

Police Chief Michael F. Morrissey told the safety board the dogs were refusing to eat.

"The situation is serious," he said. "The board ordered him to use a different kind of dog food, saying: 'Even a dog would tire of eating the same thing every meal.'

Mount Union Students Eager to Take the Air

Above: Students participating in the Civil Aeronautics course at Mount Union college, Alliance. At right is Harry Renkert of Canton, college director of flight training at the school.

The students began to wish for clear weather this week as plans were completed for the start of actual flight training at the college. Each member of the group has been studying a "ground course" in aerodynamics under the direction of Dr. F. J. Shallenberger of the college faculty for the past six weeks.

They are now ready to begin their study of handling an airplane in action in the Civil Aeronautics Flight Training Course.

YAKIMA, Wash.—Horses have been used many times to pull motor vehicles out of predicaments, but here's a case when the reverse occurred. A mare owned by Rock Saritella fell into a concrete-lined ditch and couldn't get out. Kenneth Arrowsmith finally had to use his boom truck to rescue the animal.
